bull, Mr. Wesche rushed to the Seventh district police station for a physician, but he found that the effects of the shock quickly passed away.

Stationkeeper's Narrow Escape.

When the drugstore proprietor got to the police station he found Stationkeeper Patrick Heston, pale as a ghost, too, had a narrow escape from being electrocuted. The stationkeeper had his ear to a telephone when a bolt of lightning struck the building, and he was thrown from his chair.

Maj. Ed. Burke, night chief of police, was in the station at the time. He was on the ceiling when the lightning struck, and when the flash of lightning entered the room, cutting out the electric lights, the major said he nearly jumped to the ceiling. When he got to his feet he heard the stationkeeper cry out that he had been hit by lightning. Heston was taken by Maj. Burke to the door, and the air quickly revived him. He said that he felt as if his ear was coming out of his head, and in a few minutes the effects of the bolt passed off. The telephone and electric lights were put out of commission for some time.

A half dozen passengers on a Walnut-street car were seated in the car when it was struck by lightning. The lightning hit the pole as the car passed Twenty-eighth and Greenwood avenues. The lights went out, and the car filled with the odor of burned wires. The motorman brought the car to a stop and the passengers rushed to the street. The lightning hit the car as it was passing Twenty-eighth and Greenwood avenues. The lights went out, and the car filled with the odor of burned wires. The motorman brought the car to a stop and the passengers rushed to the street.

Charged the Water.

Cars bound in both directions on Eighteenth street, between Kentucky and Lexington streets, were held up for almost an hour. The lightning struck all kinds of pranks in that vicinity. It snapped several trolley wires that sized when they became grounded. The streets were dark, and the cars became charged and travel was dangerous. The police of the Seventh district sent several patrolmen to the scene, and no one was allowed to enter the "charged" district until the street railway men got busy and fixed up the mass of live wires that fell to the streets.

TWO COTTAGES DESTROYED.

Firemen Have Difficulty In Making Line of Hose Reach.

Lightning was the cause of two buildings being almost burned to the ground on Lincoln avenue, off the Taylor boulevard, last evening at 9:30 o'clock. An engine company and hook and ladder truck from South Louisville were dispatched to the scene, but the firemen worked under great difficulties, as a thousand feet of hose was required to carry the water from a pond fully three squares away from the burning buildings. As it was, the firemen worked for some time, but the flames under control when it reached several houses on the opposite side of the street.

About 9:30 o'clock a bolt of lightning hit the roof of the two-story frame cottage occupied by James L. Roney and family. An old woman who made her home with the family, and who was in the cottage at the time, was thrown from her bed by the bolt of lightning and had to be carried to the street. In a few minutes the building was a seething furnace. When the fire apparatus arrived, the blaze was licking at the sides of the adjoining building, occupied by John Halson and family. They had time to remove all of their household effects, but by the time the firemen succeeded in getting their long line of hose to the blazing buildings both were almost completely ruined.

The wind was blowing a gale and several houses on the opposite side of the avenue were menaced, but the firemen succeeded in quenching the blaze before it could do any further damage. The loss is estimated at $2,500.

Lightning Strikes Stable.

Lightning struck a two-story wooden stable in the rear of the store of Charles Stauble, at Franklin and Polk streets, last night at 8:30, causing a fire which destroyed part of the structure. The damage amounted to about $500. A horse, which was in the stable at the time, was saved.

Caused Excitement In Theater.

During the performance at Fontaine Ferry Park last night, lightning struck an electric wire and caused a flash that nearly created a panic. With much forethought, the stage manager, busied most of the actors of the delay until the audience's fear, and it was quickly calmed down without any mishap.

WIND HITS RIVER.

Tarascon Wrenched From Moorings and Excursion Declared Off.

The rain fell heavily on the river and levee, and was accompanied by more wind than in any previous storm of the city. A gust of wind blew the Tarascon from her moorings at the Louisville and Evansville Mail Line wharft, and landed her against the Louisville and Cincinnati Packet Company's wharft, where she was easily caught and floated back down to her original moorings. Only slight damage was done in the way of breaking a few lines and jamming in some of the woodwork above the hull. The hull was not injured in the least. She will be all right for her trip to-day.

The excursion steamer Columbia, owned by the Louisville and Jefferson Ferry Company, came in from her day excursion just before the storm, and was safely moored at the foot of First street. The passengers got safely on shore and reached their homes all right. The night excursion was abandoned, though, on account of the rain and the wind. Many of those who intended to make the night trip, for good soaking on their way to the river, thinking that the rain would soon be over and the excursion would be run.

Will Soon Measure Rain.

Had the Weather Bureau's new clock that is now being erected near the courthouse for the purpose of measuring the rainfall been in operation last night it certainly would have been visited by hundreds, as everybody was anxious to know how great was the fall during the storm.

The rainfall amounted to half an inch in half an hour.

"I WON'T," SAYS DR. BAKER

When Asked If He Would Insist On Tuberculin Test.

At Conference of Health Officers On Milk Situation.

Fiscal Court Will Take Action If City Refuses.

DR. M'CORMACK IS HOPEFUL.

The tuberculin test will not be insisted upon by the health authorities of Louisville. This was the sense of a declaration made yesterday afternoon at a conference held behind closed doors in the Mayor's office. Dr. T. H. Baker, the Health Officer, made his bold and seemingly final refusal to apply the tuberculin test to dairy cattle, in the presence of Mayor Grinstead. The Mayor said nothing, which is his strong point.

The conference was by appointment. It was attended by Dr. F. T. Eismann, State Veterinarian; Dr. J. N. McCormack, secretary of the State Board of Health; Dr. W. B. Smock, secretary of the Jefferson county Board of Health; Edward McGleary, chairman of the Fiscal Court milk committee; Mayor Grinstead, Dr. Baker and Paul Burdette, the Mayor's secretary. After beating around the main issue now facing Louisville in its fight for pure milk, Dr. McCormack put this question up to Dr. Baker and the Mayor:

"The city of Louisville issue a proclamation for 'no-operation.' He insisted upon the license which he continued for the sale of milk at the expiration of thirty days except to those dairies presenting certificates of a tuberculin test."

In answer to this important question Dr. Baker is quoted as having said:

Baker Flatly Refuses.

"I will issue no such order or proclamation."

An effort was made last night to get Dr. Baker's version of the conference or his reasons for refusing flatly to insist upon the tuberculin test. The attempt was made by Dr. Baker's secretary, Dr. J. N. McCormack.

Baker's Sad Experience.

The last time Dr. Baker had anything to say for publication he declared that all physicians know that tuberculin milk does not produce pulmonary consumption, although the Royal British Commission and the United States Agricultural Department's agents hold to the contrary.

In the conference Mayor Grinstead was strong for "no-operation." He talked "no-operation," but is said by those who were present to have evaded in a manner which he considered clever every question that had any direct bearing on giving Louisville pure milk.

Dr. Baker is said to have declared that he would not issue the further spread of tuberculosis. "By doing what he has been doing," he still has his milk cans under arrest.

Agrees To a Committee.

Earlier in the meeting yesterday afternoon Mayor Grinstead agreed to appoint Dr. Baker, Dr. Vernon Robbins and Cyrus W. Field, a committee to canvass the situation and devise another plan for stopping the flood of tuberculin milk that is now pouring into Louisville. The plan already adopted by Dr. Baker, the Board of Public Safety and Mayor Grinstead, as announced by W. Garret Munn, of the Board of Public Safety, is to order a batch of guinea pigs and make the grade. This plan will waste ten weeks at the lowest estimate, according to experts, and was denounced by Dr. Eismann the day after it was announced as "fatal procrastination."

Another factor of importance in connection with the guinea pig activity and promised co-operation is that it is said to be impossible to get enough guinea pigs at this time.

"Dr. Baker cannot get the pigs with which to make these superfluous tests," said one of the present. "If he could, he would not be so stupid as to waste time and money in a way that is so well known to be of no use. He has sufficient knowledge to go ahead and run without further delay if he was so inclined. Without guinea pigs, Dr. Baker's plan is essentially worthless, and he would be essentially worthless with them. He would be stepping the real issue now before the health authorities of the city, State and country."

Dr. McCormack's Views.

"I still have hopes," said Dr. McCormack, over the distance telephone from Bowling Green last night, "that the Louisville authorities will live up to their oath of office. I will not accuse them of studied delay until after the conference between Dr. Baker and Robbins and Mr. Field. I will not say that they are not intending to do what is right. I am satisfied with the result of to-day's conference, although it accomplished nothing more than the study of delay until after the near future. The guinea pig test appears to be an unnecessary delay, although I am not certain of that, and I have words of censure for those who attended the conference. I believe Dr. Baker wants to do what is right."

"Do you believe in the efficacy of the tuberculin test?" was the last question asked Dr. McCormack.

No Argument On Tuberculin Efficiency.

"There is no argument on that point. The best authorities in the country agree as to its value and necessity," was the strong reply. Dr. McCormack verified the statements that Dr. Baker had denied the enforced application of the tuberculin test to dairy cattle.

Those close to Dr. McCormack believe that in his efforts to be absolutely just to the Louisville authorities he is stretching his patience to the limit and giving them every opportunity to do what the State Board requires before he is compelled to hand them a solar plexus blow to bring them into line.

Fiscal Court Will Act.

Magistrate Edward O'Connor asserts that the Fiscal Court will air the entire milk scandal when its members meet next Tuesday. He adds that the county will give Louisville pure milk in spite of the Mayor, Dr. Baker and the Board of Public Safety.

"There is a show-down coming within a few days," said Magistrate O'Connor. "The Fiscal Court will issue a proclamation warning dairymen that no milk can enter the county within thirty days unless certificates of tuberculin test inspection are presented. The Fiscal Court will also appropriate money to test every dairy herd in Jefferson county. It has the power to go over the heads of the city authorities in this matter and it intends to do so. It wants to protect the health of the people of Louisville and Jefferson county."

NO TUBERCULAR COWS

Will Be Permitted In The State of Ohio.

The Ohio Livestock Commission has issued an order that no dairy or butcher cattle shall be admitted into that State. This action was opposed by the Cincinnati Union Stockyards Company, but opposition has been withdrawn. The Enquirer of yesterday says:

The Cincinnati Union Stockyards Company has decided to drop further action in its request of the Ohio State Board of Agriculture, sitting as the Livestock Commission, to have the Supreme Court of Ohio pass on the constitutionality of its existence. The matter is now in the hands of the Attorney General's department.

"Nat H. Riggs, president of the Union Stockyards Company, when seen yesterday said: 'The request that the constitutionality of the act creating the Livestock Commission be decided by the Ohio Supreme Court was asked for because of the action of the commission in prohibiting the importation into Ohio of dairy and breeding cattle if they are infected with tuberculosis.'"

"We have, however, received assurances that Kentucky will adopt the same rule, and that Indiana and Illinois will do likewise. When this is done everything will be satisfactory, and we will co-operate with the commission in its work to see that only healthy cattle are marketed."

Louisville's health officers still permit the product of tubercular cows to be brought into Louisville.

NEARLY $4,000

Gathered On Ten-Cent Day For Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

At a meeting of the Louisville Anti-Tuberculosis Association yesterday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock, in the rooms, 127 West Chestnut street, Mrs. Louis H. Wymond made her first report as the result of the 10-cent tag day that was conducted by herself and 2,000 other women of Louisville on May 29.

Mrs. Wymond conceived the plan and interested various women's organizations in the city in raising $3,000 for the anti-tuberculosis fund for indigent patients. Yesterday afternoon she turned into the treasury of the association $2,944.44, the most successful of the 10-cent tag day that was conducted by herself and 2,000 other women of Louisville on May 29.

TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF MISS LIZZIE O. HALDEMAN.

Kentucky Colonels Adopt Resolution Upon Death of Daughter of An Esteemed Member.

At a meeting of the Kentucky Colonels Tuesday evening, July 13, and the following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the heart and home of our esteemed fellow-member, Col. W. B. Haldeман, has been visited by affliction, this organization would place on record its deep and unfeigned sorrow. It is with no more passing recognition of his grief that our hearts are so extended in the grasp of fraternal sympathy, with full and ready comprehension of his loss. When called to relinquish his home, weary and spent with the long journey of life, the heart finds its comfort in the consciousness of their just and noble lives. But when death lays its relentless hand on the young and joyous, and the light of the home is quenched in darkness, then, truly, is there room for the gentle ministry of love and sympathy. It is, therefore, with keen appreciation of his need that our hearts reach forth to the comfort in his bereavement, and the assurance is given that he does not grieve alone.

In the loss of his beloved daughter, Miss Lizzie Offutt Haldeман, not only has the home of her childhood lost its brightest jewel, but our city mourns one of its fairest blossoms from its garden of budding womanhood. Possessing every charm of mind and person, enriched by the graces of a rare and beautiful culture, she shone as a star in the life of her home. She should have been called so early to the yet fuller life beyond, and that call have come in a more remote from native shores, seen in truth, an ordering fraught with peculiar sadness. Yet not without confidence in the hope tendered that with the sorrow heart's pain and loss, and the grief of our brother and his household is vouchsafed the fulfillment of that word of promise: "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

Resolved, That this expression of sympathy be spread upon the minutes of our club and a copy sent to the family of our friend and comrade, by the channels of JOHN H. WHALEN, THOMAS R. GORDON, HARRY W. ROBINSON.

TWO MEET DEATH IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

PASSENGER AND FREIGHT TRAINS COLLIDE NEAR KALAMAZOO, MICH.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 15.—A northbound passenger train on the Chicago and Saginaw railway collided head on with a southbound freight, one-half mile north of Sohier Station, this afternoon. The engineer and fireman of the passenger train are dead and the engineer and fireman of the freight are probably fatally injured.

The dead, Melvin Mende, engineer, and Seth Chandler, fireman, both of Kalamazoo. The injured are Fred Kruse, engineer, and John Milbeck, fireman, both of Kalamazoo.

The accident is believed to have been caused by a misunderstanding of orders.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF MURDERING FATHER.

Quintana, Miss., July 15.—Ollie Williams, 20 years old, was locked in the Quittman jail this afternoon, and Deputy Sheriff Wood says the boy is confessed to murdering his father, Collin Williams, one of the wealthiest men in the county. The father was shot and killed at his supper table Tuesday night. The boy, Fred, died from gunshot wounds. According to the Deputy Sheriff, Williams confessed that he shot his father because the latter had mistreated him.

TRAVELING

Expenses of President Brings Merry Row.

HOUSE TALKS LONG OVER $25,000 ALLOWANCE.

DEMOCRATS FAIL IN EFFORT TO RULE IT OUT.

PROTESTS AVAIL NOTHING.

Washington, July 15.—After a lively debate the Democrats in the House failed today in their efforts to have a provision brought in by Mr. Tawney appropriating $25,000 for President Taft's traveling expenses ruled out of an urgent deficiency bill. The latter measure was under consideration throughout the session and will be the subject of further discussion to-morrow.

Members on the Democratic side were unsparing in their charges of bad faith because the House at the last session, as they alleged, pledged itself not to make any additional allowances to the President. This was vigorously denied by Chairman Tawney and his colleague on the Appropriation Committee, Mr. Smith, of Iowa.

The sweltering heat to-day had no terrors for the members of the House. When that body met there were few absentees, and the session was a large attendance being the prospect of the presentation by Chairman Tawney, of the Appropriation Committee, of an urgent deficiency bill, which included an appropriation of $434,401 including an item of $25,000 for traveling expenses of the President.

No sooner had Mr. Tawney obtained the floor for the presentation of the measure than Messrs. Macon (Ark.), Fitzgerald (Cal.) and Mann (Ill.) offered various objections, the most serious of which came from the latter two, who argued that the bill should have been introduced in the regular way, as they contended it had not been.

By the time the reading of the bill had been concluded, the opposition to the measure was so strong that the method of bringing it in had been swept away and its consideration was begun with the understanding that two hours and a half would be devoted to general debate upon it.

Availing themselves of the opportunity the executive officers were bitterly assailed. Messrs. Keifer, Ohio; Richardson, Ala.; Kinkaid, New Jersey, and Perkins, New York, discussed the tariff.

"Boosting" President's Salary.

Mr. Rayner (Democrat, Ill.) attacked the paragraph providing for the traveling expenses of the President. He said it was understood when the President's salary was increased to $75,000 that there would be no other allowance. Such a method of boosting the President's salary in order that he might "swing around the circle" in the face of a deficiency of $50,000,000 was bad faith.

He charged that while Mr. Taft was still a private citizen a cruiser was requisitioned for his use, and that he was on an easy and luxurious trip through tropical seas to Panama, absolutely without authority of law.

The President also was criticized for insisting on automobiles at a cost of $12,000 when there were horses and carriages available.

Republican Assails Item.

Not only the item for traveling expenses, but the contemplated addition to the executive office was bitterly assailed by Mr. Murphy (Republican, Missouri). He declared that the Government architects evidently were not competent enough to draw plans for a room or two because the work was authorized to be done by private architects.

Mr. Livingston, of Georgia, who controlled for the time the minority, discovered that Mr. Murphy was speaking on the Democratic side and was not competent enough to draw plans for a room or two because the work was authorized to be done by private architects.

"The time I could spare," said Mr. Livingston, "is for Democrats." General laughter followed.

"Oh," exclaimed Mr. Murphy, "I have made a mistake."

"I don't think so," interjected Mr. Tawney sarcastically.

"Let me say to the gentleman from Minnesota," Mr. Tawney said, "that Mr. Murphy has not yet been commissioned to pass upon my Republicanism nor on the votes I shall cast in this house."

Mr. Livingston yielded the time and Mr. Murphy was allowed to conclude.

Improper Legislation.

Upon the plea that it was improper legislation, Mr. Macon, of Arkansas, opposed the bill for the President's expenses, and when the reading of the bill for amendment was begun he promptly moved to amend the bill so that the additional appropriation on the ground that it had never been authorized in an appropriation bill. Mr. Tawney produced the necessary authority, remarking that the original appropriation in 1904 was passed with the aid of Democratic votes.

In the opinion of Mr. Rayner (Ill.) it was simply an effort to provide pleasure trips for the President. He began to discuss the constitutionality of the proposition, when Mr. Longworth (Ohio) called him to order.

Mr. Wagner (Pa.) in the chair, overruled the point of order, whereupon Mr. Bowers (Miss.) promptly moved to strike out the provision for traveling expenses, and the discussion was opened up anew.

King "Ed" Gets Reference.

Mr. Clark, taking the British King as an illustration, said that out of the King's allowances many equities, ladies and gentlemen, waiting and others were paid. For the German Emperor, Mr. Clark said, there was equal reason for the large civil rights to him. He would be subject to great expense. "So what's the use comparing the President with him?"

In conclusion, Mr. Clark suggested that neither Lincoln, Garfield nor McKinley was assassinated in the White House or on the White House grounds. They all, he said, were taken while away from the official home.

Mr. Hull (Iowa) said that it would be humiliating not only the President, but to the nation for towns and municipalities to pass the hat before he could pay them a visit.

Mr. Smith (Iowa) showed from the debate on the subject at the last session that such an appropriation was clearly indicated.

Protest From Fitzgerald.

"This is a deficiency bill," declared Mr. Fitzgerald (N. Y.), "and I have looked in vain for a deficiency in the traveling expenses of the President." He suggested that inasmuch as the President has warned Congress that it must keep down expenditures, it was an affront to him to ask him to take money to spend that he has not even asked Congress to give to him.

The real reason for the appropriation, volunteered Mr. Rayner, was to permit the President to take a two-months' trip in order to "boost" the cause of the League of Nations.

The President, he said, had invited John Hayes Hammond, president of the League to accompany him to make speeches en route to the Pacific.

Tawney Makes Earnest Appeal.

Mr. Tawney made an earnest appeal for the provision's adoption. He believed it the duty of the President to comply wherever he consistently could, with the request of the people to mingle among them. He said it would benefit the United States if enough money were appropriated every year to take the Congress and the President over the country to ascertain its conditions and needs.

The motion of Mr. Bowers to strike out the provision was voted down by a strict party vote, 107 to 150.

Murphy Speaks Again.

Mr. Murphy (Missouri) in opposing the $25,000 item covering a deficiency in the office of the Attorney General, he believed this ought to be investigated by a special committee.

"I do not believe there would have been any deficiency of this kind were it not for the fact that the deficiency had been called upon to pay the deficiency if we had not paid Francis J. Heney some $75,000 out of the Treasury, a portion of which I do not think he ever earned," said Mr. Murphy. "If the statement is true, he was paid after he had resigned from a certain case—I believe it was the United States vs. Binger Herman—some $5,000 or $10,000 more than he was entitled to, and if my information is correct, he would have been paid some $47,500 out of the Treasury since he has been in the employ of the State of California."

"I have been informed, against the Constitution of the State of California."

The House then adjourned.

FAVOR OF RAILROAD.

The Commerce Commission Decides Against Memphis Cotton Concern.

Washington, July 15.—When dismissing the case of the Merchants' Cotton Press and Storage Company against the Illinois Central railroad and the Memphis Warehouse Company to-day, the Interstate Commerce Commission announced that no violation of the interstate commerce act on behalf of the latter company had been proved. The case was brought on by the fact that a carrier makes a contract more favorable than with another for a service which that carrier is bound or undertakes to perform.

In this case complaint was made against the local rate of the Illinois Central of 20 cents per bale on cotton from Memphis to New Orleans. The rate of 50 cents per bale for compression of cotton at South Memphis, and

(c) The allowances to the warehouse company of 10 cents per bale for switching and carting to the warehouses of consignees in its plant.

The commission holds that the 20-cent local rate was waived. In argument, that the allowance was shown not to be excessive; that the allowance was made to cover the cost of service which carriers may lawfully perform for themselves or hire others to perform; and that neither unjust discrimination nor violation of the act to regulate commerce was disclosed.

In commenting upon the facts developed at the hearing of the case, the commission said:

"A violation of the act is not established by merely showing that the owners of a majority of the stock of a corporation, which performs a certain service for a railroad at a compensation involving no more than a reasonable profit, are also shippers of freight; but it goes without saying neither carriers nor shippers can evade the prohibitions of the law by such a device of organization, nor would the utmost good faith in the matter of incorporation justify a violation of the act, which actually works out a violation of the statute. The commission has never hesitated to look through corporate forms and to examine the substance of transactions."

BUT THREE ESCAPE

WHEN BRITISH SUBMARINE STEAMER IS SUNK.

Run Into By the Eddystone and Thirteen Members of the Crew Are Lost.

Cromer, England, July 15.—The British submarine designated as C 11 was sunk last night by the cargo steamer Eddystone at a point four and one-half miles northwest of the Haloborough lightship. Thirteen members of the vessel's crew went to the bottom with her, and only three were saved.

Lieuts. Brodie and Watkins are among the survivors. The third man probably was a sailor.

The crew of the Eddystone, with a flotilla of eight submarines, was proceeding in a southerly direction when C 11 was in the line of the Eddystone and collided with C 11. The submarines C 16 and C 17, in endeavoring to avoid a collision with the freighter, ran into each other. C 17 was damaged, but there were no fatalities on board either craft.

Battleships and cruisers with ample salvage appliances were signaled for and reached the scene in the course of the morning. C 11 lies in fifteen fathoms. Wreck hoppers already have been passed under her, and it is hoped that she can be raised at once.

BUILDING COLLAPSES, BURYING THIRTY-TWO

SEVEN DEAD, ONE MISSING AND MANY INJURED IN ACCIDENT AT PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, July 15.—In one of the basest sections of the city, and at a time when thousands of pedestrians were passing, the five-story brick building at the northeast corner of Eleventh and Market streets, which was being reconstructed for the United Gas Improvement Company, collapsed this afternoon, burying or pinning beneath the ruins thirty-two persons, several of whom are dead, one missing, one fatally injured, and twenty-four more or less seriously injured.

Charles Larsen, sub-foreman of carpenters, Fritz, carpenter, Paul Hanzburg, laborer, Alfred Davis, negro laborer, Sigmond Lamsberg, laborer, Arvin — a Swede, Unknown man, Fatally injured.

Charles Larsen, sub-foreman of carpenters, Fritz, carpenter, Paul Hanzburg, laborer, Alfred Davis, negro laborer, Sigmond Lamsberg, laborer, Arvin — a Swede, Unknown man, Fatally injured.

The two lower floors of the building had been torn up, and the three floors were shored up by heavy timbers. Steel girders were bracing the shoring. It appeared that by pulling out by the girders the entire structure was loosened.

FUNERAL SERVICES OVER A. G. LANGHAM TO-MORROW.

The funeral services of Mr. Arthur G. Langham, who died July 5 from injuries received in the explosion of a giant dynamite firecracker, will be conducted from the chapel at Cave Hill cemetery at 6 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. The burial will be in Cave Hill cemetery.

The body of Mr. Langham has been resting in a vault at Cave Hill cemetery pending the arrival of Mrs. Lang

DISMISSED.

No Evidence Against Mrs. Catherine Phipps

THAT SHE ASSAULTED MARY RYAN, SAYS COURT.

YOUNG WOMAN POSITIVE DEFENDANT WAS ASSAILANT.

GOING TO HER OLD HOME.

Lexington, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Catherine Phipps, who was accused of having assaulted and attempted to burn with carbolic acid Mary Ryan, was this evening dismissed, at the conclusion of her examining trial, which had consumed almost the entire day in Magistrate F. S. Graves' court. This probably ends the legal investigation of the case which caused an elegant sensation in this city and yet remains a tantalizing mystery.

Miss Ryan will to-morrow go on a long visit to her old home in Napoleon, Kentucky, and it is reported that she will not return to Lexington to live. She has entirely recovered from the injuries received at the time of the alleged assault, and from the hysterical condition which followed. Public sympathy has been decidedly in favor of Mrs. Phipps, and her dismissal at the examining trial had been expected.

Court Cheered.

When Magistrate Graves announced at the conclusion of the evidence that the prosecution had failed to make out a case and that Mrs. Phipps was dismissed, the audience broke into approving cheers, and many of the large number of women present crowded around Mrs. Phipps and nearly congratulated her.

Nothing new or sensational was brought out in the testimony. Miss Ryan testified that Mrs. Phipps was the person who attacked her, but Miss Rosa Hodges, who it had been understood, had stated that she, Mrs. Phipps, had been the person who attacked her, only testified that she saw Mrs. Phipps in a hostile position near the fence, and she had just jumped down from it.

Mrs. Phipps Denies Charges.

Mrs. Phipps emphatically denied when placed on the stand that she had assaulted Miss Ryan, and said that she had been the person who was attacked. She said she had been in the yard, and that she had seen Mrs. Phipps in a hostile position near the fence, and she had just jumped down from it.

Witness Missing.

When the witnesses were called it was found that Miss Elizabeth Hamm, a near neighbor of Mrs. Phipps and the Dunlevy family, with whom Miss Ryan lived, who was called to testify that she had left yesterday for Lee county apparently to avoid testifying, Attorney Wallace at once announced that Miss Hamm was an important witness for the defense and that he could not announce her without some agreement as to her testimony. After a private conference between the opposing counsel both sides announced ready, and the trial was begun.

Mrs. Ryan's Testimony.

Miss Ryan was the first witness. She said that she had known Mrs. Phipps for some time and that they had often been on friendly terms. The witness made her home at the residence of Michael Dunlevy on South Mill street and Mrs. Phipps resided at the next house south. She stated that soon after noon on Wednesday of last week she had been to Mrs. Phipps' stable as was her custom to feed and water the horse. "I had stepped up two steps toward the loft when someone grabbed me from behind and I said, 'What do you want, Aunt Duff?' Supposed it was an old negro woman who comes over here from time to time. She pulled me down and I began to be released. She choked me down. I smelled the contents of the bottle, but did not know what it was. I grabbed her hand and closed my mouth over it. She poured the liquid down my throat. Then it was the liquid was spilled on my face and I burned it. During the struggle I tore the rag from her head and recognized my assailant as Mrs. Phipps. I remember to have called for Mr. Dunlevy during the struggle. After failing to get the liquid in my mouth, she drew a knife from her coat and stabbed me in the back with the knife and I fell. She succeeded in breaking away from my assailant, and she struck me in the back with the knife and I fell. She said, 'If you tell this I will kill you.'

Positive Assailant Was Mrs. Phipps.

"I positively recognized my assailant as Mrs. Phipps. She wore a dark coat, gray shirt waist and dark rag over her head. After I fell she came to my face she went back to the back stable door and undone it.

On cross-examination the witness said that Mrs. Phipps had held of her throat with her right hand and pulled the phial from her pocket with her left hand.

Said the witness, continuing her testimony: After opening the back door she ran back to where I was lying down by the steps. About this time she got up and she struck me in the back with the knife and I fell. She got the back of my dress. I broke away and ran out of the stable door into the yard, where I was met by Mrs. Ryan. She got the knife from the same pocket as she did the phial.

Witness was unable to describe the knife, except that it was a small pocket knife. Witness said it was when she pulled the rag from Mrs. Phipps' face that the latter said, 'If you tell this I will kill you.' She said that while they were struggling with the vial and knife Mrs. Phipps said, 'If you tell this I will kill you.' She said that while they were struggling with the vial and knife Mrs. Phipps said, 'If you tell this I will kill you.'

Would Destroy Rosy Cheeks.

On cross-examination the witness stated that Mrs. Phipps had said to her during the struggle: 'You have bright eyes and rosy cheeks and many admirers, but you won't have them when I finish with you.'

"BLIND TIGERS"

And "Bootleggers" Waxing Fat At Russellville.

ONE HUNDRED NEGROES IN FLOURISHING BUSINESS.

CONDITIONS FORCE OFFICERS TO MAKE A RAID.

$4000 FINES IN ONE CASE.

Russellville, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—Prohibition as a civic failure has been demonstrated in this city, and nobody can be heard to insist that prohibition prohibits here. By the decision of the Court of Appeals this city became a territory nearly three years ago, the saloons, with $6,000 of town revenue, being eliminated. "Blind tigers," "bootlegging" and the general illicit sale of liquor have flourished as never before. It is estimated that half a hundred negroes have been engaged in this trade. Every incoming train brings beer and whisky in large quantities. The "blind tigers" have been running for some time, and the goods come, and other necessary necessities, so that approximately 100 negroes are engaged, directly and indirectly, in the business.

City Treasury Empty.

While all this is in progress, the extension of the city water plant and fire department is at a standstill and all public improvements have ceased, the city treasury being empty. None of the promises and assurances of the prohibition officers, and the many guarantees and assurances that they proposed to see that the law was enforced, have been realized. The city has been infested with whisky, beer and blind tigers, and all the violations of the prohibition law have been committed, but without the revenue.

Wholesale Raids.

So open and bold matters grow that a few days ago Sheriff Tom Rhea and Chief of Police Clavinger took the bull by the horns and raided the legal questions involved, made a wholesale raid on all the supposed "joints" in the city. They made several arrests and captured several barrels of beer and some whisky, which they seized and carried to the Sheriff's office. One of the white men who were arrested in the raid, getting the limit in each case, his total fines amounting to $400 and 150 days in jail. The negro cannot pay the fine, and will serve a term in the county jail, the guest of the county, whose taxpayers will provide food for the county.

Blacks For Present Conditions.

It is expected that a local option election will be held in the city in December, the three years of prohibition then expiring. It is believed that if left to the whites, the city will go over willingly for license, but in view of the numerous negroes engaged in the blind tiger business, with their connections, all of whom, it is believed, will vote to continue present conditions, the result of the election will be in doubt.

FIGHTING MINISTER PUTS BURGLAR TO ROUT.

The Rev. Mr. Joyce, of Roanoke, Va., Pursues Intruder Who Tried to Kill Him.

Roanoke, Va., July 15.—When the Rev. W. H. Joyce, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, entered that edifice yesterday to go into his study, a burglar, who attacked him with a hatchet, the burglar aimed a blow at the minister's head in an effort to kill him. The burglar, who was an athlete of powerful build, wanted off the blow, and in a desperate struggle with the Rev. Mr. Joyce, the burglar then drew a large knife, but the minister fought him to a door. The burglar was pushed back and the Rev. Mr. Joyce chased him for several blocks.

The fleeing man dropped a pocket-book containing a small phial, and the words "Dan Rice, aged 22 years." The burglar has not been captured.

Headache Tablets Kill Woman.

Elizabethtown, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. William Ryan, aged 50 years, died from the effects of taking headache tablets. She is survived by her husband and seven children.

Denies Taking Poison Purposely.

I denied taking the poison purposely, but said that in painting her face she had taken it. She denied falling on the floor unconscious, but said it made her sick and she had to call for help to get to the bed.

Had Been "Healed."

She was then asked if she had been treated by Clayborne Martin, who calls himself a divine healer, but the court pronounced that it was a fraud. The witness was questioned about the threat, which she signed, "If you tell this I will kill you," which she had received some time before the alleged assault, and Attorney Wallace asked her if she had signed it. "I did not," promptly came the emphatic answer. She said that she did not know who wrote it.

Mrs. Phipps Reiterates Story.

At the conclusion of the evidence for the prosecution Mrs. Phipps was placed on the stand for the defense. She emphatically denied that she had assaulted Miss Ryan, and substantially reiterated the story she has told before of running to her back fence and looking through the alleged assault and that Mrs. Ryan seemed depressed because she and Mr. Broadbush, who had been attentive to her, had had a "fuss." Mrs. Ryan told her that Mr. Broadbush had been ready to marry last fall and she was not, and now she was ready and he was not. Before any other witness had been placed on the stand the court decided that it was evident no case had been made out against the accused, and ordered that she be dismissed.

BIG CONTRACT

For Fuel Secured by Kentucky Coal Company.

COMPETING WITH PITTSBURG FOR SOUTHERN BUSINESS.

SIMPSON TRIAL NEARING CLOSE AT DANVILLE.

DEFENDANT ON THE STAND.

Paducah, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—The West Kentucky Coal Company, which has its general offices in Paducah, today announced the closing of a contract with a large steaming line at New Orleans for 600,000 bushels of coal to be delivered within three years. The company is making a fight in competition with Pittsburgh for Southern business. It also has closed big contracts for shipments into Texas, having built a railroad from the river to Paducah, Va. Additions are being made to the force at the West Kentucky Coal Company's large plant, recently built here, and the company is increasing its capacity. The company's mines are located at Caseyville, Ky., and the towns are made up here.

PIONIER FOR STATE CHARGES.

Inmates of Peeble-Minded Institute Have a Good Time.

Emmeline, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—The inmates of the Peeble-Minded Institute, who were held here to-day at Old Fellows Park, about half a mile south of the city, were the first of the kind ever held in this section of the State, and proved an event of interest to the people of this district. Two hundred inmates of the institution, in charge of Col. Albert Scott, arrived here in special coaches over the Louisville and Nashville at 10 o'clock this morning, and continued their trip until 6 o'clock. The inmates were given a picnic dinner, which was an enjoyable feature of the day.

Knife and Pistol Fight.

Ab Adkins Stabbed and William Gray Seriously Shot.

Hawesville, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—On the crowded streets of Hawesville last night at 10 o'clock, just as the street fair was breaking up for the night, Ab Adkins and William Gray, who were in a fight, Gray used a knife and Adkins a pistol. When separated Adkins was found to be the possessor of an ugly slash in the leg and later in the night, while in jail, came near bleeding to death.

Gray did not emerge from the conflict until 1 o'clock. He was given a bullet from a .38-caliber pistol in the arm, another passed through his body just below the waist, and the third, the most dangerous, penetrated the bowels about two inches below the navel. He was carried on a cot to the Robbins Hotel, where he was given medical attention. It was given him. At 5 o'clock this morning he was conveyed to Louisville, where it was hoped an operation might save him, but it is not believed that he can survive the injuries. Several stitches were made in the ugly wound on Adkins' face.

Adkins was brought out of jail this afternoon for a preliminary hearing, but the trial was postponed until Saturday morning awaiting development in the injuries of Gray.

NEURO REFUSES REWARD.

Peter Portel, Who Surrendered Murderer, Gives Police Money.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—The reward of $100, raised by private subscription for the capture of Peter Portel, the negro who shot and killed James Morris, will be offered to the man who kills the dead man. The reward was paid this afternoon to Peter Portel, colored, who surrendered Morgan to the police, and the subscribers have expressed a wish for it to be given to Mrs. Morris.

After being kept here in a heavily guarded jail Wednesday night, Morgan was taken to the police station and placed in a cell. The police were of the opinion that mob rumors were being spread, but thought it best to take no chances.

SIMPSON ON THE STAND.

Richmond, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—The case of George Simpson, alleged leader of the miners at Boone, who disobeyed an injunction, that resulted in a fight between miners and the United States Marshal on Monday day, on trial here, moved on rapidly to-day. The Government exhausted its witnesses and four of the defendants took the stand in their behalf, one of whom was Simpson himself. The defendants denied the charges, and the Government's testimony contradicted the Government's testimony, but rigid cross-examination by the prosecution tangled them in their statements.

Will Become Field Worker.

Owensboro, Ky., July 15.—[Special.]—The Rev. T. J. Watts, pastor of the New Liberty Baptist church in this county for more than two years, has resigned and will go to-morrow for South Carolina to begin as field worker for the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Mr. Watts has done a good work in Owens county and has at the same time been doing B. Y. work over the State, serving as corresponding secretary of the State union.

May Lose a Leg.

Joseph Saunders, traveling salesman for a dry goods house at Nashville, sustained serious injury at Paducah yesterday. One of Mr. Saunders' horses fell and on attempting to jump from the fall, he was thrown under the vehicle, which passed over his leg, breaking it. He was taken to Owensboro, as amputation was thought to be necessary.

TO REDUCE

Faculty of U. of L., Medical Department.

THOSE LET OUT MAY START A NEW COLLEGE.

NEW TEACHING STAFF WILL INCLUDE THIRTY-SIX.

SUBFACULTY IS DISMISSED.

The entire faculty of the University of Louisville Medical College has been dismissed by the board of directors of that institution. Thirty-six of the sixty-one members of the faculty will be reappointed. The entire subfaculty has also been discharged. Part of it will be reinstated when the new faculty is announced. The sweeping action of the board of directors was made in an effort to reduce the number of members of the teaching staff. It is the opinion of all that the drastic action will result in an increased efficiency and a better school.

NEURO PLUNGES KNIFE BLADE THROUGH DUSKY RIVAL.

Killing Occurred In Clean Alley After An Argument Over a Black Belle—Murderer Arrested.

Will McReynolds, colored, 25 years of age, of 1410 Twelfth street, stabbed John Cash, 40 years of age, colored, living in Clean alley, to death on Twelfth street, between Magnolia and Fairview, last night about 10 o'clock, following a heated argument over a woman that both men have been fighting for some time. The fight was a sensational chase through the outskirts of the city by Patrolmen Frazer and Carroll, who secured the body with a revolver. The man who was upon him he made no effort to resist arrest. McReynolds says that he stabbed Cash with a knife which he had hidden in his pocket.

The two men met on Twelfth street, where they were employed on a sewer contract, and four of the defendants took the stand in their behalf, one of whom was Simpson himself. The defendants denied the charges, and the Government's testimony contradicted the Government's testimony, but rigid cross-examination by the prosecution tangled them in their statements.

HOOSIERS WIN
OPENING GAME

Puttmann's Poor Throw Responsible For the Defeat of the Colonels.

A HARD BATTLE ALL THE WAY.

Glaze Keeps Hits of Louisville Batsmen Scattered Throughout Nine Innings of Play.

OLSON CONTINUES TO BAT.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 15.—(Special.)—The baseball game of Puttmann and Carr opened a four-game series at Washington Park this afternoon, and after a hard battle the victory went to the Hoosiers by the score of 3 to 2. There was nothing easy about it, for the Colonels played as if the championship depended on the result.

The victory was a balm to the local fans, who are cheering because the champs have been going badly lately, and asking Carr why he does not add an outfielder who can hit and a pitcher who can pitch. With the score tied in the ninth and Olson on first, and Carr on Puttmann's poor throw, Carr scored with the winning run.

Jack Halla, pitched for Louisville against Ralph Glaze for the locals, and the Louisville man was not quite so good as Glaze, Puttmann, because of the absence of Woodruff, was compelled to change his front considerably, but the Colonels were not weakened apparently by the changing of Olson to short and putting Puttmann at first.

The champions beat the barrier in the first when they got one over on Davidson. By the second inning, the Hoosiers were in the lead, and the game was a close one.

Glaze kept the Louisville batsmen scattered throughout the game, and the Hoosiers were not able to get any runs in the first three innings.

Cullen Tells Why Rooters Try To Coach Team From Stand.

KNOW ABOUT INSIDE STUFF.

During Critical Periods of the Game Spectators Are Constantly Advising Players.

DELIGHTS ON THE DIAMOND.

When, too, in addition to those of us who know all about how to manage a ball club, says Clarence A. Cullen in the Washington Star, there are a lot of others among us who know a heap more about actually playing the game than the players know or can ever hope to know.

Yes. Our surname is Wisenheim, and we have got that "Know-thing" as to how to play the game sewed up in a gunnysack and tossed into the Bosporus. We're the scientists, that is to say. We're jerry to all of that inside stuff that the players never even heard about until they were told it. We know the old army game, the barmy game, whereas we, sitting up there in the stand, leaning our chins on our walking-sticks, are busy every minute of our time with the back instruction in and knowledge of that occult or esoteric stuff, whichever that means.

That is what we have no private way of communicating our subtle information to the players as to how they ought to play the game.

But we are at it during critical occasions in the game, telling them what we know and what they ought to do, and when we do so, we are jerry to all of that inside stuff that the players never even heard about until they were told it. We know the old army game, the barmy game, whereas we, sitting up there in the stand, leaning our chins on our walking-sticks, are busy every minute of our time with the back instruction in and knowledge of that occult or esoteric stuff, whichever that means.

EAGER DEFEATS BARRETT IN FINALS IN TENNIS SINGLES

Arterburn Brothers Beat Frank and Price In Semi-Finals In Men's Doubles—Good Programme For To-day.

IN the feature event of yesterday's programme in the tennis tournament, Eager, the rising young star from the Highlands, defeated Barrett, the ex-champion, by a score of 6-2, 3-6, 1-7, 7-5.

Eager's game has shown improvement daily since the beginning of the tournament. He played a game yesterday which was a real test. His play was calculated, went a long way in winning the match for him. His lob was all well placed, skimming the back line, and his drives across the net made it almost impossible to return the ball.

Barrett did not play quite up to his usual form, having some trouble in placing his favorite back-hand stroke. This match was the first in this event, and the best three out of five were required for a decision. Eager opened up the first set by winning the first two games handily, then Barrett took the next, which was a love game. Eager then turned the tables and made the next love game to him. Barrett in turn only allowed Eager one point in the first game.

The next game was a long one, going to seven times, and finally was won by Eager on a tie-break. The next two deciding games, giving the set to Eager 6-2, 3-6, 1-7, 7-5.

The second set opened with the first game for Eager. The next two sets were won by Eager, the first by a score of 6-2, 3-6, 1-7, 7-5. Eager then came through for another, but Barrett then struck his ball to the net. Barrett then turned the tables and made the next love game to him. Barrett in turn only allowed Eager one point in the first game.

The next game was a long one, going to seven times, and finally was won by Eager on a tie-break. The next two deciding games, giving the set to Eager 6-2, 3-6, 1-7, 7-5.
